DAKIN BROS. OF CHINA,
LIMITED,
DISPENSING CHEMISTS, &c.Sole Agents for Hongkong and China,
"LEMOINE" NATURAL CHAMPAGNE,
(Without Liqueur).
AWARDED PRIZE MEDAL, PARIS, 1889.

THE Special Features of this Pure Champagne are—

- 1st.—Its entire freedom from the usual sugary, etc., consequently it is fresher, cleaner, and more wholesome than the Liqueured Champagnes.
- 2nd.—Its Delicacy, due to the first pressings only of the grapes used: the later pressings make the wine rough and coarse, and necessitate the use of Liqueur.
- 3rd.—Its Natural Dryness, which is not aggressive, making it more appetizing than sparkling.
- 4th.—No liquor being added, the process of re-fermenting is very rapidly effected, avoiding the large loss of carbonic acid gas—the most valuable property of Champagne.

Champagne should always be drunk cold; but to half freeze a light, delicate wine by putting it into an ice-pail for the best part of an hour, is to destroy all its fine vinous properties.

In former years, when heavily Liqueured Champagnes were alone obtainable, a good freezing was necessary to hide the nauseous sweetness of a ten per cent. dose of sugar-candy and alcohol; but consumers now demand a wine free from unnatural sweetness or alcohol—a sparkling vintage which can be taken freely at luncheon or dinner, and which will improve, rather than destroy, the appetite.

HONGKONG, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1891.

A SANITARY BOARD BURLESQUE.

Meeting of the Sanitary Board yesterday afternoon. Present—the usual quorum of spouters and honest John Humphreys. Sir for a Western Market discussed. We thought that had been settled years ago; but then the Q.C.'s once upon a time estimable friend Price was always unfaithful. The late hon. the Surveyor isn't the Q.C.'s friend now by a long chalk; would be very sorry to be so; so would we. The odour of the association is not altogether after of roses. Mr. Eds, who as a paid employee of the Union Insurance Society, is entirely out of place on the Sanitary Board, thought a large market on the fore shore opposite the Sailors' Home would be the best. He didn't say why he thought so; doubtless because he didn't know. He certainly doesn't know very much at the best, unless it be how to pile up the shillings, and all the lost tribes are adepts at that game. The Q.C. thought that site would be a good one, but hinted that he held a brief for the Trustees of the Sailors' Home, and they would see the Sanitary Board doubly distasteful before any market should be erected in front of their show. The Hon.

Samuel grinned, the Registrar General grinned, and the Q. C., with a flippancy all his own, opined that it would be best to consider the whole matter de novo—this break out in a dead tongue is the result of John Joseph's wrestling with the midnight oil—and coolly proposed that the Hon. Samuel, Stewart-Lockhart, and Brother Eds should be appointed as a Board to investigate, but nobody knew what they were voting for, nor do they know now. Next, please.

The smells from some drains in Mosque Terrace were the next course, and the irrepressible Eds, who appears to spend a considerable proportion of time that belongs to his employers' in smelling round the cess-pools of the colony, said he had been told there was a great deal of sickness in that quarter, but he didn't know whether the drains had anything to do with it or not. Well, friend Eds, if you don't talk about the drains, and if you were only told about the sickness, you ought to have exercised a wise discretion and kept your mouth shut. You don't often chuck out pearls of wisdom, and on this occasion you seem to have only succeeded in making a goat of yourself. Strangely enough the legal whirled didn't tell Eds and the other ante-diluvian spouters that hearsay gossip was no evidence, and that his respected colleague was only holding himself up to ridicule. Why this backsliding, most reverend knight of the Holy Apostles? The Secretary was instructed to call upon the owners to restrain the premises. If Hugh McCallum were not an especially decent Scotchman—a vera avis in Hongkong—we would recommend the owners of the houses in question to ask for the Sanitary Board's authority and a lot of other things, but as matters stand—well, let the thing rip. If the Q.C. were stuck into one drain and his worthy colleague Eds into another, and kept there hermetically sealed for three months, it would do the Sanitary Board and the colony as well as an immunity of good.

Dr. Cantile, in a special minute stating that a case of small-pox had resulted fatally at the Tung-wah Hospital, wished to know if such cases were allowed to be retained at that institution. The Secretary said a number of small-pox wards were isolated from the main buildings, the other Sanitary experts knew nothing about the matter, and the curtain was rung down in solemn silence. The Hon. Samuel's presumption—he didn't know anything, although he is Surveyor General and President of the Sanitary Board—that the new hospital bulk Hygia would be used for small-pox cases, clinched matters.

The water supply was the next item, and as nobody seemed to know anything whatever, beyond mere hearsay or uncertain speculation, as to the probability of a scarcity of water for public needs, or of the actual provisions made to prevent such a catastrophe, the discussion revolved itself into an undignified personal rencontre in which the President, the learned One, the Registrar, and the Secretary all clipped in. Result—nil.

Public latrines were the next teaser, and by certain unfathomable means the Registrar had discovered that some evil-minded persons had favored the erection of public latrines for the purpose of depreciating the value of private property, and when the property had been thus depreciated the conspirators at once purchased the property and lo! and behold! the latrines immediately disappeared. No! by heavens! we are not joking! this most Munchausen-like statement was actually made in sober earnest, by the Hon. J. H. Stewart-Lockhart, Registrar-General of Hongkong, Member of the Legislative Council, etc., and he followed it up by a proposition prohibiting anybody from opening a latrine for public use without the sanction of the Sanitary Board. We pause to take a breath for a few minutes, to enable us to think over this latest charge of criminal conspiracy.—There now! we have recovered by the aid of a little stimulant of a liquid nature. Mr. Nathaniel J. Eds, the forerunner of the jury in the Conspiracy case, seconded the Registrar's resolution; he said that he had himself lately heard of such attempts at depreciation of property having been made. Was this enough from such a professedly strict apostle of the pure and virtuous as Mr. Eds pretends to be? We think not. What did he hear, and from whom? Was it not his duty as an honest man—we don't go any further—to state the cases, giving names of properties and persons? No doubt it was, and as he failed to do so we have no hesitation in writing down Mr. Eds in his public capacity of a Sanitary reformer as a first-class case. As Mr. Eds hears so much, did a report at any time reach his ever-open ears of certain persons palming off on a newly formed industrial enterprise a saw-mill plant, that had proved a failure in Hongkong and had been openly hawked round the town for sale at $10,000, for $25,000? Perhaps not; but if he is interested, we shall be glad to favor him with particulars. The Q.C. thought the Government ought to have been asked first, but as this was a step in advance he would not oppose the motion. The profound reasoning of the eloquent Francis will doubtless strike our readers with the force of a fullgrown mule.

Mr. Eds, who appears to have been making a personal study of a congenial subject, had a few words with his dearly beloved—no, learned friend about the regulation of Chinese cemeteries. We regret that our space is too valuable to allow us conscientiously to devote any portion of it either to Mr. Eds' meditations among the tombs of our Celestial friends, or to Mr. Jao J. Francis' frivolous objections to nothing.

Dr. Aidson, the Superintendent of the Government Civil Hospital, very properly had directed the attention of the Sanitary Sanhedrim to the fact that a patient suffering from small-pox had been brought to the Hospital in a public ricksha. The general Doctor had taken the precaution to disinfect the vehicle, but he thought, and so do we, that it was the Sanitary Board's business, if that state imposition has any business, to prevent such a danger to the public health occurring in future. Wordy discussion as usual, and as usual no definite result.

Small-pox, it seems, is raging in Canton and Macao, and the effective method the Hongkong Sanitary Board adopted of preventing the disease from being introduced into Hongkong, was in instructing the Secretary to address the captains and officers of steamers plying between Hongkong and Canton and Macao, advising them to exercise increased vigilance and report any case found at once. A true bill, as we live—and then the Board went home to dine, each member fancying himself an important factor in the daily existence of Hongkong. Great Cess!

Governor des Voeux has yet done nothing in this colony that will give his name and résumé anything beyond the most ephemeral existence. He is practically unknown to the masses; with the classes (the Lord help them) he is said to have earned a most unenviable unpopularity. He is not a universal female adorer like Sir George Bowen, and his health has prevented his personally acquainting himself with the rank and file of the people he is supposed to govern. He knows little or nothing about the Hongkong people, their modes of life and political and social aspirations, their conditions and prospects—in fact, all he knows is what he has been told, and those who told him know exactly as much and no more than His Excellency. Plain-speaking, but true. The Hongkong Government, in its small way, is one of the biggest shams on the face of the globe; every department of the Service is an imposition on public good nature which, in the United States for instance or any one of the Australasian colonies, would not be tolerated for one day. We include the Courts of Justice, which loudly call for a thorough cleansing without further delay. But the biggest existing fraud-to-day is that emancipated society of chattering ninnyes known as the Sanitary Board. If Governor des Voeux wishes to emerge from his retirement, and is in sufficiently good health to do so, we strongly recommend him to inaugurate a public resumption of the duties of his high office by at once and without hesitation suspending the functions of these so-called Sanitary authorities, until steps can be taken to summarily abolish a public body that has rendered itself the laughing-stock of the colony. The sooner the foundation is laid for a Municipal Council in Hongkong, the better will it be both for the Government and the community. And the only difficulties in the way are a few contemptible toddlers and parasites of a past age, who ought long since to have been allowed to quietly languish in their own impotence.

THE drain of centuries upon Siberia for furs is telling at last, and in West Siberia there is now great scarcity, the supply coming chiefly from the eastern portion of the huge province, whilst for the natives of Obedorsk, the chief market-beaver furs from Kamchatka, and prepared Obedorsk furs are largely imported. Obedorsk is the principal fur depot, and the most important trade is done in squirrels—of which 70,000 skins are annually sold—and white furs.

WE have received from Messrs. Kelly and Walsh a very handsomely bound and clearly printed copy of "The Magistrate's Ordinance, 1890," with notes and references and a copious index, by Mr. Andrew J. Leach, barrister-at-law. Mr. Leach has evidently devoted a good deal of time to the useful compilation, and deserves the thanks not only of the legal fraternity, but of the community at large. That is about all Mr. Leach is ever likely to get as a recompense for his labours.

MARSHAL Desrodes de Fonseca has done away with the last vestige of slavery in Brazil. On the 28th of November, the anniversary of the issue of the Emancipation Laws of 1851 and 1855, hundreds of former slaves still undergoing long sentences under the exceptional laws of June 10th, 1835, received a full amnesty. This law had for its object the punishment of the slaves for crimes and offences against their masters and the members of their families. It was a very severe measure, and was much abused. The Marshal calls his amnesty merely an act of reparation, not one of grace.

THE Royal Japan Troupe of jugglers, balancers and tricksters give their last "show" to-night. The champion (?) Japanese wrestler Uakichi is going to be taken up by one or two local "cricks," who state they will "fling him out of the ring." The performances of this troupe are the best of the kind that we have ever seen outside of Japan, and as such we recommend those who have not yet been down to Hongkong to go to-night and see which of them is the best. It is a great treat to see the Japanese in their native costumes, and to see them perform their feats of agility and strength.

Unless somebody does something pretty soon, the shall hear of Hirsch floating the Heir Apparent as a limited liability company on the Duc of Plaza-Toro system, and what joy this would bring to our local financial world, some members of which are willing to sell their souls for the privilege (?) of becoming Royalty's parasites.

"THE North China Desk Hong List for 1891" has been courteously forwarded to us from the office of the North China Herald, Shanghai. It comes rather late in the year, but that is owing to the desire of the publishers to include in it a lot of information that was not available until well on in January, and which is of paramount interest in Shanghai, for the settlement of the general guide is specially compiled. In addition to a plan of Shanghai and its environs, and a fairly accurate map of China, the "Hong List" contains a directory of Shanghai, the Northern Chinese Ports, and Corea, and a vast deal of useful information regarding the Chinese Government departments, high provincial authorities, Customs' regulations, etc., etc. This handy guide should be in every office in the Far East.

A REPORT recently issued by the United States Consul-General in Egypt gives some interesting information descriptive of the system of hatching eggs by artificial heat, pursued in that country from time immemorial. One establishment visited by the Consul was wholly constructed of sun-dried bricks, mortar, and earth. It was 70 ft. long, 60 ft. wide, and 16 ft. high, and was provided with 12 compartments or incubators, each capable of hatching 7,500 eggs, or altogether 90,000 at one time. The number of chickens hatched in this manner throughout Egypt is estimated at 75,000,000 and would, under ordinary circumstances, require 1,500,000 mothers. We give these particulars for the benefit of some of the public men of Hongkong, and would point out to them, in a gentle way, how much more fittingly they would be employed in tending the motherless chickens of Egypt than in their present capacities.

OUR correspondent "Free-trade" may set his mind at rest. The Pais affair has not escaped our observation, and we have not been "squared" to let it slide. As soon as we are in possession of the whole of the correspondence connected with the case, which was read in Court but by some means or other escaped the notice of the usually long-sighted short-hand reporters of our morning and evening contemporaries, this most flagrant attempt to maintain a monopoly on the Canton river by what a Hongkong special jury has unanimously decided was a baseless conspiracy, will be fearlessly and firmly dealt with. Rome was not built in a day; and the effects of eleven weeks in a gaol hospital at a time when constant medical attendance and care were almost an absolute necessity to keep life together, require a little shaking out. But we don't intend to succumb to this journey, not even to oblige those who so handsomely offered to subscribe towards an ornate tombstone in the Happy Valley, with our many virtues inscribed thereon. We have some work to do in Hongkong yet, and we mean to do it; so "Free-trade" needn't feel alarmed that we have either "lost grip" or have joined the gutter-snipes. We only need a few days more.

It is plain, says a writer in the North American Review for January, that the underlying causes of the late financial crisis have consisted almost entirely in an over-creation of new and largely doubtful enterprises. These enterprises set in almost simultaneously in 1887, and the States had great trouble to get rid of them. The "United States" share in the inflation may be approximately stated as covering about $2,000,000,000; that of Great Britain about $2,000,000,000; with the intrinsic merits of the investments perhaps preponderating in favour of the United States, as most of our new railroads have the promise of ultimately becoming remunerative as commerce develops. The violently irregular moments reflected in the foregoing facts are a sad comment upon the lack of judgment among investors, and equally so upon the williness of a class who control large amounts of capital and enjoy the confidence of the public, to misdirect the national earnings into unsound and wasteful ventures. But the more regrettable such experiences may be, the more necessary does it become to devise every possible means for limiting the disasters they entail. Certain consequences of these inflations are inevitable. The "water" must be squeezed out of the issues, and their value reduced to the standard of their true earning capacity. That means wholesale liquidation and large declines in the market value of the scrip; which, again, involves the disturbance of loans based upon the dubious collateral, and frequently the failure of banks, bankers or promoters who have committed themselves to the ventures; and these derangements almost invariably involve sympathetic injury to commercial interests which have no direct connection with such misdirections of enterprise. So much is inevitable. The disease is radical, and therefore can be cured only by a severe process.

FOR some months past, and at the present time, the honourable (that is the official handle) the Surveyor-General has allowed Calne Road to be turned up side-down by a well-known landowner who has a couple of plots or so near Breezy Point. The road, at that most dangerous and unprotected point, is now calmer in half, and a reckless apology for a bridge has been constructed over a veritable carriage trap. This is going a little too far with public interests, and we mention the matter in order that should a serious carriage accident happen in that vicinity—which is very likely indeed—it may be on record that we called the attention of the authorities to the matter and emphasised the numerous complaints which have been sent in to us by a number of people who have had uncommonly narrow escapes while driving to and from West Point recently.

A TELEGRAM from Munich gives the financial accounts of the Passion Play in Oberammergau. The net profit amounts to 300,000 marks. This sum was sent by the bank in Munich, which managed the affairs, and the matter in order to police escort on the Wednesday following the play. Next day the salaries of the actors were paid. Two thousand marks fell to the share of Maier, who enacted the principal part, 1,300 to the Mayor, "Calphurnia" and as much to his daughter, "Mary," who if we mistake not, played the part of the Virgin Mary. But the village is dissatisfied. Taxes are being levied at the same time for the State and for the parish, and the portions of the players are very much reduced. In Munich the opinion is expressed that the Passion Plays will have an ugly sequel, and small wonder either; fancy an irate Jesus walking round with a club looking for the treasurer who had not acted up on pay day.

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI
BANKING CORPORATION.

The ordinary yearly meeting of shareholders in the above named Corporation was held at the City Hall at noon to-day, for the purpose of receiving the Report of the Court of Directors together with a Statement of Accounts to 31st December, 1890. There were present:—Messrs. H. L. Dalrymple (Chairman); J. S. Moses, H. Hoppus, L. Poesnecker, T. E. Davis, J. J. Keswick, D. R. Sassoon, C. J. Holliday, W. H. Forbes, St. C. Michaelson (Directors); F. de Bovis (Acting Chief Manager); C. P. Chater, J. J. Bell-Irving, M. S. S. Sassoon, H. N. Moody, E. C. Ray, W. H. Ray, E. A. Gubbay, G. Gubbay, A. McConachie, E. Sharp, C. de Champeaux, F. Henderson, S. L. Darby, W. H. Young, E. J. Coxon, H. Gaskell, D. McCulloch, J. H. Cox, H. F. S. Green, C. S. Taylor, J. S. Coxon, G. Stewart, S. A. Joseph, C. A. Ozorio, and others.

The Chairman said—Gentlemen, the past half year has been a very profitable one, and a glance at the figures of the report we have presented must afford our shareholders the most satisfactory evidence of the continued steady development of the Bank's business and the handsome balance for dividend cannot but be very gratifying to you. When I addressed you six months ago it was anticipated that the prospects of the half-year would prove very bright in result, and this forecast has been amply realised: in addition to our usual dividend of £1.10a per share we are able to distribute a bonus of a like amount (the new shares participating pro rata) in this division of profits) and to place lakhs of dollars of reserve I will only refer to one or two of the principal items in the report, and as of primary importance would draw your attention to the considerable increase in the sum standing under the head of deposits; during the past six months these have increased to the extent of ten millions of dollars. On the other side of the account you will observe that our investments in Indian Government Loans have been augmented by the equivalent of some £1,500,000. The £1,500,000 Consols and 3 per cent. Indian Government Sterling Loan stand in our books at £97. As regards Reserve Fund, with the sum appropriated from the half-year's profits, and the estimated amount still to come in at the end of next month from the premium on the balance of instalments of the new shares, our reserve on 31st March will stand at about $7,500,000. We have also (thought it desirable to put aside out of the large profits the sum of $100,000 against Bank Expenses account, and it is our intention, from time to time, when profits admit, to continue this policy. Whilst recommending the adoption of this principle we do not wish you to think that our assets under this heading do not represent good value; on the contrary, we look upon the cost of our real estate, as it now stands in the books, as below its intrinsic value, but following the example of the leading English Banks, we have decided to place a policy of gradual sinking down in sound and prudent. It is in contemplation to erect new banking premises at Singapore, at which point our business has of late years very largely increased, and we think you will all allow that our present offices there are not worthy of this institution; we have acquired a suitable and very central site, and shall shortly be considering and deciding on plans for the new bank the outlay under this head furnishes our reason for writing down as opportunities arise. Your Directors have again, for the third time in the annals of the Bank's history, desired to specially recognise the real and general ability of the staff, and have voted our employees a bonus of 10 per cent. on their salaries for 1890, and I am confident that you will warmly endorse the action of your Directors. (applause). At the same time we wish to record our sense of the services rendered by our managers, agents, and staff, and in recognition of which we have decided to place a bonus on their salaries for 1890. As you are most of you doubtless aware a general tour of inspection of the Bank's branches has been undertaken by our San Francisco agent during the past few months, and I am glad to be able to inform you that so far as this has at present been accomplished, Mr. Harris has reported very favourably on the position in which he has found matters. Our Inspector is now on his way, via the coast ports and Shanghai, to Japan, which his duties will require him to visit on his tour of inspection, and from whence he will have to return charged with our agency at San Francisco. When we last met I referred to Mr. Jackson's services, and were good enough to pass a special vote of thanks to him and the staff. I am sorry he is not present to-day to receive your thanks for the magnificent report he has been so instrumental in producing. The constant fluctuations in silver during the past six months must have made his duties, at times, very onerous and anxious, but you have the results before you, and I need say no more on this subject: facts and figures testify very amply to the services I have referred to. Mr. de Bovis took over charge on the 1st January, and will remain here until the return of Mr. Noble next autumn: in him you have an able chief and one in whom the Directors have complete confidence. Your Directors have to regret the loss of an old and valued manager in the person of the late Mr. Edward Morris, who had died in Yokohama last autumn. Now, gentlemen, I have but one more matter to touch upon, and that is in connection with the financial troubles in London at the end of last year. The threatened collapse of probably the largest commercial house in the world last November caused almost a panic in banking circles; this catastrophe was, through the able management of the Bank of England, happily averted. Invitations were made to the leading banks in London to participate in a guarantee to the Bank of England, and in this your Directors at once consented to share: we have come under a guarantee to the Bank of England to the extent of £250,000 on account of Messrs. Baring Bros. & Co., and I am glad to be able to inform you that the liquidation is proceeding very satisfactorily and that there is every reason to anticipate that no call on the guarantors will be made. I think it is but right that we should here record our appreciation of his services, and our thanks to the Governor of the Bank of England, who so promptly stepped into the breach, and by his timely and energetic action, with the assistance of the Government, averted one of the most serious financial and commercial crises of modern times. In conclusion, gentlemen, I have only to add that the business of our Bank goes on very satisfactorily. We are satisfied that the increase of our capital was a wise step, for we had employment for all our funds. Our report is the best that has ever been issued by the Bank. Before moving the adoption of the report and accounts, I shall be pleased to answer any questions that shareholders may wish to put to the chair.

Mr. C. S. Taylor asked whether it could be arranged that Hongkong shareholders desirous of realising on their dividend warrants in sterling in London would be allowed to do so? He was under the impression that such an arrangement was mooted some years ago, but he did not think it could be done even at the present time. He asked the question because he noticed warrants were invariably issued bearing the words "must be paid in Hongkong in dollars" written across them.

The Chairman—In reply to Mr. Taylor I have to say that if he or any other shareholder desires to draw on dividend warrants in London the case, presumably, do so by notifying the Board beforehand.

Mr. Taylor—How long beforehand?

The Chairman—The notice should be given before the end of each half-year.

Mr. Taylor—I merely put the question because Hongkong shareholders appear to be at a disadvantage as compared with London shareholders. If, for instance, a Hongkong shareholder has 100 shares and realises on them here, and he has 100 in London, he realises on them there he will get—as the equivalent in dollars on his London shares—a good deal more for the latter than for the former. I think it is only right that we in Hongkong should be placed on the same footing as shareholders at home.

The Chairman—If Mr. Taylor will leave the matter with the Board I think it will receive due consideration.

Mr. Taylor—Certainly.

The Chairman—The matter will have the consideration of the Board of Directors. If there are no further questions I beg to move the adoption of the report and accounts as presented.

Mr. D. McCulloch seconded, and it was carried unanimously.

DIRECTORS.

The Chairman proposed the confirmation of the appointment of C. J. Holliday to the Board vice Mr. A. P. MacEwen, who resigned on leaving the colony.

Mr. George Coxon seconded.

Carried unanimously.

RE-ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

Mr. C. P. Chater—I have much pleasure in proposing the re-election of Mr. W. H. Forbes, Mr. H. L. Dalrymple and Mr. J. S. Moses, who retire by rotation, and I shall thank you to put up the names individually.

Mr. G. Stewart seconded, and the re-election was carried in the manner desired by the proposer.

AUDITORS.

Messrs. P. Ryrie and F. Henderson were re-elected auditors upon the motion of Mr. J. J. Bell-Irving, seconded by Mr. J. H. Cox.

The Chairman then announced that dividend warrants would be posted on Monday.

A Portuguese clerk at the reporters' table—Payable on Monday, Sir!

The Chairman—Yes, dividend warrants will be payable on and after Monday the end and proximo.

THE PEAK HOTEL TRADING COMPANY, LIMITED.

The adjourned ordinary yearly meeting of shareholders in the above Company was held at the Hongkong Hotel to-day. There were present:—Messrs. J. B. Coupland (Chairman), C. Evans, J. A. F. de Sonnaville (Deputy Chairman), E. Stokes, P. Parlane, F. Davis, and J. Winkley (Secretary).

The Chairman said the meeting was called to continue the discussion that was left this day fortnight and other matters. He would begin by saying that both private and public meetings had taken place and negotiations had been come to to lease the restaurant and a portion of the Peak Hotel—the billiard room, dining room and ten bedrooms. The negotiations were being carried on and the result, although not certain, was rather favourable. That would leave very few rooms to let either furnished or unfurnished, and they proposed to advertise and get them let at an early date as feasible. They proposed to postpone further building operations and make an arrangement with the contractor to take a mortgage for his debt, which they thought they would be able to do. He had no further statement to make, with the exception that Messrs. de Sonnaville and Anderson would join the board of directors, and the latter gentleman, if necessary, would take the management of the hotel, and act as secretary, but they hoped the necessity would not arise. If Mr. Anderson acted as secretary, he would resign from the board, Mr. Sonnaville's election, it must be understood, was in place of Mr. Eds.

Mr. Evans proposed that Messrs. Stokes, de Sonnaville, and Anderson be elected as directors, to make up the exception that Messrs. de Sonnaville and Anderson would join the board of directors, and the latter gentleman, if necessary, would take the management of the hotel, and act as secretary, but they hoped the necessity would not arise. If Mr. Anderson acted as secretary, he would resign from the board, Mr. Sonnaville's election, it must be understood, was in place of Mr. Eds.

Mr. Stokes proposed the election of Mr. Fullerton, Henderson as auditor, which was seconded by Mr. Parlane and carried.

The meeting then terminated.

The first meeting of the Hongkong Athletic Club was held on the Race-course, Happy Valley, this afternoon. The attendance was only moderate at first, but as the afternoon advanced a fairly large number of spectators, including many of the fair sex, assembled in the Grand Stand and enclosure. The heat was intense and very much against the accomplishment of fast times. In the 100 yards race, on record in the flat races or any other event of the varied programme. However, all passed off satisfactorily, the net result being an enjoyable afternoon's sport. Special interest was centered in the Veterans' race which was pulled off by Mr. A. Rodger in 13.15th sec.
